U.S. Plane in Jap Strafing

TOKYO (UPI)—The U.S. Air Force reported that a B57 fighter bomber accidentally fired 16 rounds of millimeter ammunition today into Nakaminato City, about 60 miles north of Tokyo.

The Air Force said four buildings were hit but there were no reports of casualties among the city's estimated 40,000 residents. The plane, a two-engine craft, was banking into a bombing run over a nearby practice range when its pilot brushed against a pushbutton mechanism which triggered the plane's four cannons.

NEWS in BRIEF

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The wreckage of a United Nations Italian plane missing with 10 men aboard on a flight from Uganda to Leopoldville was found in Tanganyika today.

The Italian Ministry of Defense in Rome reported that information from the Italian consul general in Nairobi, Kenya, said that four persons were killed and six survived the crash-landing of the C119.

By United Press International
The East got its first big helping of November snow today. Parts of New Hampshire and Maine braced for the season's first regionwide nor'easter.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Some 4,000 representatives of business, labor, industry and all levels of government sat down today at a White House Regional Conference on problems at a local level.

The conferees came from Southern California, Southern Nevada and Arizona on invitations sent out by Gov. Edmund G. Brown. They met with top officials from Washington.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dr. Phillip Condit, chief of the Bureau of Communicable Diseases for the state Department of Public Health, today led off a series of witnesses at a public hearing as to whether laws should be passed to restrict use by physicians of the antibiotic, Chloromycetin.

The Air Force said the triggering mechanism was on "double safety" but a "malfunctioning" caused the plane's guns to fire. The pilot of the bomber was identified as Capt. Clarence Hughes. His home town was not immediately available, the Air Force said.

Nakaminato City is on the western coast of Japan's main island of Honshu. The Air Force practice range is about 10 miles inland from the city.

Reinforcement Of Berlin Wall

BERLIN (UPI)—East German Communists working through the night under searchlights reinforced the wall dividing East and West Berlin today and installed tank trap at strategic points.

The feverish activity appeared to be the Communist answer to a demand by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that the wall must come down as part of any East-West settlement on Berlin.

With Adenauer and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's personal representative in Berlin, both in Washington to confer with the President, the Communists made their wall stronger.

U.S. Helps To Oust Trujillos

Show of Planes, Warships Supports President Belaguer

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (UPI)—President Joaquin Belaguer, supported by a show of U.S. planes and warships, ousted members of the Trujillo family from the Dominican Republic today and assumed command of the armed forces himself.

Hector and Jose Arismendi Trujillo, brothers of Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo Sr., who was assassinated May 30 after three decades of dictatorship, flew to the United States at midnight along with 27 other aides and members of their families.

The generalissimo's son, Rafael Jr., or Ramfis, already had left the island and was reported at sea in his yacht, Angellita.

The plane carrying the Trujillos arrived at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., at 4:10 a.m. EST and the 29 passengers were hustled off under heavy security guard.

Fills Power Vacuum
Belaguer acted quickly and decisively to fill any power vacuum that might touch off a civil war. He assumed command of the Dominican army, navy and air force under emergency powers.

Opposition groups which had been clamoring for a new government while any members of the Trujillo family were on the island, issued unusual expressions of support for Belaguer in the crises even though he had assumed the presidency under the Trujillo regime.

Belaguer's hand was strengthened when 15 U.S. warships sailed into waters of the Dominican coast and 12 U.S. jets roared over the capital Sunday. Secretary of State Dean Rusk had made it clear Saturday the United States would not permit the Trujillos to regain control of the Caribbean republic.

Situation Under Control
The U.S. consulate apparently considered the situation under control. A spokesman said there were no plans to alert or evacuate the 1,500 Americans living in the country.

The capital's streets and gathering places were deserted Sunday night except for crowds at the harbor watching the American ships offshore.

Pedestrian at Palm Desert Killed on 111

PALM DESERT—A 74-year-old pedestrian was killed here at 5:15 p.m. Saturday, when he attempted to "run across the road" in the path of an east-bound car, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Dead is Claude Arthur Amerman of San Diego. Investigating officers said Amerman had been trotting along the side of the highway, and darted into the path of a car driven by Zelbert Sanders, 60, of Vista.

Amerman was pronounced dead at the scene, officers said. At 4 a.m. Saturday, Walter Johnson, 47, of Blythe, and Donald Solt, 23, 43-766 Towne St., Indio, received major injuries when their cars collided 5 miles east of the Highway 60-70 and Highway 195 junction, the CHP said.

Johnson, eastbound, reportedly had crossed a double center stripe on a bridge, as he passed a truck. Solt braked to avoid a collision and lost control of his car. Both cars swerved over the center line, and crashed.

TRYING FOR RECORD

Woman in Balloon Feared Endangering Air Traffic

HIGGINS, Tex. (UPI)—Federal Aviation Authority officials apparently were concerned today that the balloon carrying Mrs. Alford Wolf, 56, might rise high enough to interfere with commercial airline traffic.

Mrs. Wolf, of Blue Bell, Pa., reportedly drifting aimlessly over western Oklahoma Sunday, is trying to set a new women's world balloon endurance record, now held by two Russians.

She was last spotted about 300 feet off the ground near this small Texas community.

FAA officials have warned small aircraft not to fly in the vicinity of the balloon and fear that if cooler air should cause the balloon to rise, it may interfere with commercial aircraft.

Early Sunday night an unidentified Hammon, Okla., farmer sighted Mrs. Wolf in her balloon as she drifted over his farm. He said Mrs. Wolf called to him that she could not descend.

A Custer County, Okla., patrol car followed the balloon for a while but patrolmen soon lost sight of the balloon because of low altitude clouds.

When she later floated across the state line into Texas she informed law enforcement authorities she was all right and wanted to continue her flight.

For Mrs. Wolf to beat the sustained balloon flight record she will have to stay aloft 35 hours. She lifted from the Big Spring, Tex., airport at 1 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Wolf rides in an open gondola suspended from a balloon filled with 35,000 cubic feet of hydrogen gas. She said she chose Big Spring for her starting point because it was centrally located and she believed it would keep her from landing in the ocean.

Spaak Wants to Talk on Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak said today there should be high-level discussions with the Soviet Union on the Berlin situation. Spaak, former secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, made the statement at the White House after a 70-minute meeting with President Kennedy.

The session was held in advance of a scheduled afternoon conference between Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. The two leaders hoped to agree on areas which would be negotiable in any Berlin talks with Russia.

Spaak told newsmen he and the President discussed Berlin, the German problem and the Congo. Spaak said he felt negotiations with the Russians were absolutely necessary and suggested that they should be conducted at the foreign ministers' level.

The President returned from a four-day western speaking tour less than two hours before meeting with Spaak. Kennedy motorcade from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., to the White House.

Kennedy will direct his attention to another quarter of the globe Tuesday when he meets with Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, who also heads his nation's delegation to the United Nations. It was hoped this session would further reduce U.S.-Indian tensions over such issues as this country's right to conduct nuclear tests in view of Russia's big test series.

Adenauer spent the morning conferring with his staff in preparation for his meetings with the President. Their late afternoon meeting at the White House was to be followed by two more sessions Tuesday and a windup conference Wednesday morning.

Kennedy and Adenauer, during their talks, hope to reach some agreement on just what elements in the Berlin situation are negotiable. The principal task will be to find some compromise between Adenauer's apparent desire for a tough approach to negotiation and Kennedy's policy of maintaining a certain flexibility without compromising basic principle.

Governor Flies To Join Hunt On Jungle Isle

By WILLIAM J. FOX
United Press International

A Dutch navy ship today rescued the companion of missing Michael Rockefeller, 23, youngest son of the New York governor, who last was seen trying to swim to the wilderness shore of New Guinea from a disabled boat.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was en route from New York to New Guinea to aid in the search for his son who was lost while on a search for rare native art objects. An intensive sea search was underway.

Officials at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, radioed a terse report to the Defense Ministry at The Hague, the Netherlands, saying that Rockefeller's companion, Dutch ethnologist R. S. Wassink, 34, had been picked up safely.

Rockefeller was informed of the possible family tragedy Sunday night, barely 48 hours after he and his wife announced they were ending their 31-year marriage by separation and divorce. No cause was given.

Michael was one of five grown children. His twin sister, Mrs. Mary Rockefeller Strawbridge, accompanied the governor on his flight. The mother remained in seclusion near New York.

They reached San Francisco early this morning on the 10,000-mile flight to the South Pacific. They left for Honolulu at midmorning.

In New Guinea, Wassink was reported to have told his rescuers that he and young Rockefeller were exploring the remote and crocodile-infested south coast of Dutch New Guinea when their private boat lost its power and started drifting out to sea near the mouth of Eilanden River.

The boat, called a prahu, is made of two small Malayan canoes lashed together catamaran style. Normally, it is powered with sails and oars, and sometimes an engine—as was the case this time.

The engine fell off and the small, shallow-draft boat started drifting out to the Arafura Sea. The craft was sighted by search planes Saturday, but darkness closed in before help could come.

Wassink said he stayed with the prahu, and young Rockefeller decided to try for shore to get help.

Swam Toward Shore
Michael lashed two empty gasoline cans together and started swimming toward the swampy and jungle-choked coastline more than 15 miles away, using the cans for buoyancy.

"I am hopeful," the grim-faced governor said as he boarded a plane at San Francisco International Airport.

The governor departed with a wholehearted promise of assistance from President Kennedy.

Drew Pearson In Forum Talk Tomorrow Night

Famous for taking a lone stand on controversial causes, Drew Pearson, the noted news columnist will appear on the Palm Springs Community Forum Series at the high school auditorium tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Pearson, who has braved the wrath of government officials, congressmen and other leaders, will be introduced by Carl Schoofs, publisher of The Desert Sun.

This is the first of a forum series that will include Hubert Herring, Latin American expert, Vincent Price and another speaker yet to be selected under sponsorship of the Palm Springs Temple Isaiah Jewish Community Center.

In presenting Pearson on the Forum Series, Stanley Rosin, co-chairman said, "The committee unanimously selected Mr. Pearson as our first speaker because we believe people like to be stimulated and made to think and Mr. Pearson's reputation certainly bears out the fact that he can be very stimulating and always presents unusual and sometimes shocking information that gives pause for reflection."

Tickets for the Forum may be obtained at the Jewish Community Center, Grones Shoes, Savon Shoes and Ramon Drug. The auditorium has seating for 1,100 persons.

Algerians End Hunger Strike
PARIS (UPI)—Thousands of jailed Algerians ended their lengthy hunger strike today in return for status as political prisoners.

Lawyers for three ranking members of the rebel Algerian government being held in a hospital outside Paris announced a three-point agreement for ending the strike, which started Nov. 2. The French Ministry of Justice confirmed that 5,000 jailed Moslems were eating once again.

But the lawyers said Vice Premier Mohammed Ben Bella and two other rebel cabinet ministers would continue their fast to win other demands.

CHILD GUIDANCE CENTER TO HONOR JACK, ANN WARNER

Activation of a child guidance center in Palm Springs named for Jack and Ann Warner was promised Saturday at an organizational meeting of the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society.

Plans for the program are based on financing from a gift by the Warners of 155 acres of land in the Cahuilla Hills valued at $100,000 and a promise of another gift of equal value.

It was announced that the program will be speeded by use of funds on hand by Welfare and Friendly Aid, a loan from the Little House fund, pending the sale of the gift property adjacent Lilly Pons' home.

The Warners were scheduled to participate in the session at the home of Dr. and Mrs. B. H. Poliak, but they remained in Los Angeles to attend a dinner honoring President Kennedy. They are expected at another planning session Dec. 2.

First step in the program will be selection of a project director and office force budgeted for $16,050 of an estimated annual operating cost of $24,172, which will be completely independent of Community Chest aid.

Judge Hilton McCabe said, "Frequently cases come into court where the child needs guidance and there has been no agency to which the court could refer the case. This Child Guidance Center will be a big impetus toward reaching the goals we have set up in child welfare by stabilizing family relationships."

The school has developed a guidance program for educational counseling and estimates that some 47 families were in need of referral to a family service or mental hygiene clinic during the past school year and this has handicapped them in handling the problem, he said.

Paul Summit, director of Special Services for Palm Springs Unified School District, said, "This will give us the biggest shot in the arm we've had in years. It will be a big impetus toward

MINOR INJURIES and major car damage resulted at 1:44 p.m. Saturday when this car, driven north on Highway 111 by Dorothy Lucille Wright, 19, of Banning, was struck by an out-of-control southbound car driven by Delores Ann Copeland, 31, of Los Angeles. Officers cited Copeland for driving approximately 60 in a 25 construction zone. Her car went out of control in a curve near Gateway Estates entrance. Drivers were treated at Desert Hospital, and Carol Royce, 26, Los Angeles, was held for observation. Dorothy Lee Thurman, 18, Banning, and two children were in Wright car. (Desert Sun Photo)

SHIPWRECK AT SEA

Terry Jo Tells Classic Story

MIAMI (UPI) — Terry Jo Duperrault, 11, the only survivor of seven persons who made the last voyage of the sailing ship Bluebelle, told of hearing screams in the night and of seeing the skipper abandon the blood-stained ship after shoving her downstairs, the Coast Guard said today.

The girl's story, told from her hospital bed here, contradicted in almost every detail the account of accidental loss of the ketch off the Bahamas as related by its captain, Julian A. Harvey, before he committed suicide.

It was a classic story of terror in the night.

Terry Jo, one of the three children aboard with their father,

John Duperrault, a Green Bay, Wis., optometrist, and his wife, said she was standing on the deck of the sinking ship with Harvey and saw him leap for a small dinghy which had started drifting away.

Saw Bodies in Cabin

Her mother and brother, Brian, 14, were lying in a pool of blood on the floor of the cabin, she said. She said that after she was awakened by screaming, stomping and shouting noises, she saw nothing of her father, her sister, Rene, 7, or Harvey's bride of three and one-half months, Mary Dene. Rene's body was in the boat with Harvey when he was found.

Harvey, 45, a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, had told the Coast Guard the main mast snapped and punctured the hull. He said that after he started the auxiliary engine the ship caught fire and he was separated from all the others aboard.

The Coast Guard said the little girl told their investigators there was never any sign of fire and that the mast was tipped or slanting, but that it was not broken.

Harvey killed himself in a Miami motel the day after Terry Jo was recovered at sea after floating on a life raft for nearly four days. Harvey had been picked up in the dinghy the day after the Bluebelle sank.

No Trouble Aboard Ship

The girl, said to have related her story of terror in almost matter-of-fact fashion without crying or breaking up, told investigators there had been no hostility or arguments during the voyage between any of the adults aboard.

The girl said that when the noises awakened her she got up and went to the central cabin where she saw the bodies of her mother and brother.

Promises of New Philippine President Told

MANILA (UPI) — President-elect Diosdado Macapagal, self-styled common man of the Philippines, will tighten internal defense against Communism and strip the government of luxuries if he keeps his campaign promises.

The winner of Tuesday's election is pledged to steer the Southeast Asian republic into closer relations with its Oriental neighbors and its former ruler, the United States.

Macapagal conducted a flamboyant four-year campaign marked by colorful as well as solid planks.

When Macapagal takes office Jan. 1 he will face serious problems as the first liberal party president since the election eight years ago of the late Ramon Magsaysay.

Macapagal has told newsmen he is deeply concerned about what he calls increased Communist penetration into the Philippines.

Key Defense Outpost

The president-elect has said that he believes that Communist ideas and perhaps loyalties are filtering into Filipino intellectual circles.

The communist-led Huk armed rebellion was broken in the Philippines years ago.

But Macapagal has said that the outgoing Nacionalistas recognize the subtle tentacles of Communism spread by pen and words.

Poised at the apex of Southeast Asia, the Philippines with its now stable political system and its American military bases is a key to Western defenses ringed Communist China.

But Macapagal fears that a cancer is growing within the Philippines which, if not stopped, may destroy the republic.

To strengthen the nation, Macapagal has said he will place major emphasis on solving economic and social problems including rising prices, widespread unemployment and under-employment and the heavy drains on the nation's foreign exchange reserves.

Burglary Nets TV, Appliances

Police today are seeking clues to a burglar who pried open a kitchen door at the Edwin C. Stevens residence, 1807 Jacques Road, to escape with a $200 portable 17-inch television set, an electric mixer and electric toaster.

The family discovered the loss when they returned here over the weekend. Two pry-bars, left by a slim, sharp instrument, were discovered in the door frame.

Two Banks Hit By Gunmen for $118,000 Loot

By United Press International

Three daring bandits, armed with a machine gun and pistols, held up a Massachusetts bank today and three other gunmen robbed an Indiana branch bank after kidnaping the manager from his home. The loot in the two robberies amounted to more than $118,000.

The Halloween-masked men surprised employees of the Garden City Trust Co. in the plush Chestnut Hill section of Newton, Mass., when they reported for work this morning. They held the employees at gunpoint until a time clock opened the vault automatically and then looted it of more than $38,000.

Police said the bandits apparently had broken into the bank during the weekend and waited until the employees arrived. None of the five persons held by the gunmen was injured. The bandits escaped in the bank treasurer's car after the robbery, the second since the bank opened two years ago.

At Gary, Ind., three men invaded the home of bank manager Robert Welke and forced him to drive with them to the Glen Park branch of the Gary Trust and Savings Bank. After looting the bank, the bandits tied up Welke and escaped in his car.

A bank official said the loot amounted to $60,000. It included "heavy payrolls."

dence Center will fill a great need." Both Summit and Dr. Ned Russell, high school guidance coordinator, agreed the same thing was true for the schools.

Dr. Marion Zonniss, director for psychiatry, said that with existing cases there is no place for referral except in extreme cases sent to already overloaded state hospitals, and said this assures a better chance for rehabilitation.

The program, which will include children through high school age, will encompass the entire Palm Springs Unified High School District.

As it is set up it provides for one professional worker, with high qualifications to handle child-centered problems.

Muriel Fulton, who selected the project to receive the Warner gift, said she chose the child guidance project because it was well prepared, non-sectarian and because of the directors who were working on it.

Driver Cited For Speeding To Crash Here

Lenora Edna Sills, 45, of 3003 Ventura Road, Palm Springs, was cited for excessive speed in an obstructed intersection, after her car, moving at approximately 25 miles-per-hour, collided at 5:04 p.m. Sunday with a car driven by Julius Michaels, 61, of 1539 S. Calle Marcus.

The collision occurred at the intersection of Paseo de Marcia and Ocotillo Road as Mrs. Sills was traveling north on Paseo de Marcia, and Michaels east on Ocotillo, officer Ed Romonoff reported.

Both drivers and Mrs. Fanny Michaels, 61, received lacerations about the head.

Brown Coats Swapped But One Was a Mink

Like ships that pass in the night, two brown coats passed — and were swapped — at the Doll House restaurant, 1032 N. Palm Canyon Drive, Saturday evening.

One of the two coats was a $5,000 full-length autumn-haze mink, owner Mrs. Jeanne Haynes Raymond, 38, of San Marino, told officers. The coat she got in exchange was a tan cloth model, with a fur collar.

Mrs. Raymond reported that she and her husband, dining with another couple, had settled for dinner and a couple of drinks early in the evening. Next to their party was a middle-aged couple who left first. Between the dinner parties were the folded coats.

When Mrs. Raymond prepared to leave, only the cloth coat was left. The mink coat has the owners name pinned on each pelt, under the lining. The lining carries a Robinson's label.

Rayburn Library Drive Launched

BONHAM, Tex. (UPI)—Texas newspaper editors formally launched a drive today to raise funds for a permanent endowment of House Speaker Sam Rayburn's library.

Rayburn had approved the idea just a few weeks before his death and thought it was the "most appropriate tribute to him."

Rhea Howard, editor and publisher of the Wichita Falls, Tex., Times and Record News, kicked off the campaign with a $1,000 from the two newspapers and urged other editors and publishers to act as recipients of funds to perpetuate the library and expand its services to make it a research center on the legislative branch of the U.S. government.

Two candidates, meanwhile, were expected to file in the next day or so for Rayburn's congressional seat, a post he held for nearly 30 years. They are Bob Slagle, an attorney from Sherman, Tex., and state Sen. Ray Roberts of McKinney.

Gov. Price Daniel called a special election for Dec. 23 after consulting with Rayburn's family. He had to act promptly to assure that the district had representation during the next session of Congress.

Rayburn, 79, the man known as Mr. Democrat to millions of Americans, was buried Saturday after a simple funeral attended by 15,000 persons including President Kennedy and former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and scores of senators and representatives joined the throng in this small north central Texas town in paying their last respects to the man who served as speaker twice as long as any other.

Many more had marched past his casket during the 26 hours Rayburn lay in state in the Rayburn Library, a $500,000 granite and marble building just on the outskirts of the downtown area.

TAKE PAY CUTS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department reported Sunday that 17,000 workers took pay cuts under contracts negotiated this year, but 2.4 million got raises.

The pay of another 200,000 wage earners was unchanged in agreements written during the first nine months of 1967.

Registration Deadline Today For Communists

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Communist party must register as a tool of the Soviet Union by midnight tonight or face an avalanche of government legal action.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said over the weekend the party had notified the Justice Department it would ignore the deadline for registration under the 1960 Internal Security Act.

Thus the Justice Department expects another long round of legal fighting with the Communists. But it has not yet been decided how or when the battle will start.

Party Must Register

The law, which Kennedy reiterated he would enforce, requires the party to register with the Justice Department, turn over the names and addresses of its officers and file a financial accounting and a list of its printing presses.

If the party itself does not register, the law then requires that the party leaders register by midnight Nov. 30. If they fail to register, the burden then shifts to the entire membership, estimated at 10,000, which would have to register by Dec. 20.

The government could, if it wished, seek an indictment this week against the party if it fails to register. But some persons have argued that the government would have a stronger case if it permits the full 30-day period to elapse before launching action.

Failure to comply with the law subjects the party, its leaders and the membership to fines of $10,000 a day for every day the fail to register. In addition, the individuals would be liable to five years in prison for every day they fail to register.

Sorry, Kids, Elvis Gone!

Elvis Presley fans in Palm Springs will be disappointed to learn that the famed rock and roller was in their midst over the week-end without their knowledge.

Elvis, whose pelvic gyrations was a forerunner of the Twist, laced it up at Ray Ryan's El Mirador Hotel.

His two-day sojourn was shrouded in secrecy. This was in line with Presley's own request. Elvis, shooting a movie at nearby Idylwild, wanted undisturbed relaxation so badly that he had all his meals brought to his room.

Only time he ventured outside was to sun himself in his bungalow patio.

Palm Springs' teen-agers thus missed an autograph collecting opportunity.

Council to Admit Russ Orthodox

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Delegates to the third assembly of the World Council of Churches (WCC) prepared today to admit the Russian Orthodox Church to membership.

Six hundred delegates from 60 countries voted Sunday to integrate the International Missionary Council into the world movement. The Missionary Council represents religious groups in 38 nations.

Leaders of 175 Christian denominations or organizations opened the three-week assembly here Sunday. It is the first WCC assembly since 1954 and the first ever to be held in Asia. The 1954 meeting was held in Evanston, Ill. The missionary council dropped its name after the vote and became the Division of World Mission and Evangelism within the WCC. A 115-member commission will supervise its work.

Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, WCC

secretary general, said the integration of the Russian Orthodox Church, with its 25 million members "must be considered a major event in the history of the ecumenical movement."

He welcomed the presence of five representatives of the Roman Catholic Church, which for the first time sent observers to a WCC assembly. The Roman church remains outside the World Council, however.

25-Year Pin Goes To Charles Babicky

INDIO — Charles Babicky, Salton City, a member of Indio council 3215, Knights of Columbus, has received a 25-year membership pin from Grand Knight Leon Swenson.

Babicky joined the KC group in Inwood, Mich., in 1914, and gained fourth degree rank in 1919 at Milwaukee, Wis.

D. Hot Springs Developer's Services Set

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Funeral services for Rudolph J. Gerwick, pioneer resident here, will be held in the Angeles Abbey Chapel, Compton, at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday. Gerwick, who lived at 66 - 396 W. Fourth St., died Nov. 14 in a San Diego hospital after prolonged illness.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Gerwick had lived in California since 1936 and settled here in 1942. He built some of the first buildings in this community. He lived in Lynwood during several years of the past decade, but moved back to this resort community last year.

Gerwick is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bettie Gerwick of Desert Hot Springs. Interment will be in the Abbey Mausoleum.

WASH THE FIRST STEP

GARDENA, Calif. (UPI)—William Schaff, 44, drove his auto through a construction barricade Friday and it came to rest straddling a 30-foot deep ditch.

Schaff opened his door and stepped down.

Firemen hauled Schaff out of the ditch about an hour later and took him to Gardena Hospital, where he was treated for minor injuries.

"It wasn't a long walk," Schaff told firemen. "But watch that first step!"

Alan Yates in Murder Plot on Carter Brown

By CLAIRE COX
NEW YORK (UPI)—Alan Yates is plotting a murder. He wants to kill a fellow named Carter Brown.

Actually, Yates is Brown—and vice versa.
There is nothing sinister about this situation or about Yates' desire to eliminate Brown. Yates is a ghost writer and Brown is a ghost.

Carter Brown's name is on the covers of 34 novels published in the United States in the last three years. But Yates wrote them, and now he wants to get the credit as well as the cash that has come from large book-store sales.

Mystery Writer
Yates—Brown—specializes in mystery stories. He prefers the whodunit to the whodunnit on the theory that it is more important to know why a victim is murdered than who did it—although he admits that to solve a case, it is necessary to find out who did the foul deed.

Yates is a native of England, which has produced masters of the whodunit, but he prefers to write for American fans of the paperback mystery story. During the war, he served in Australia and remained there to begin his writing career. He has averaged about 10 books a year for the last decade, almost none of them written under his own name.

Name Unchanged
When American editions of the Carter Brown series were published, the name remained unchanged, with the result that the 200,000 purchasers of each paperback Carter Brown book have no idea who Alan Yates is or that he really exists.

"There is an enormous futility in being known always as Carter Brown," Yates said in an interview. "When I appeared on Mike Wallace's PM East Television show with four other writers, they all appeared as themselves and I was Carter Brown. There even was a cocktail party for Carter Brown. I would like to be recognized as myself—Alan Yates not Carter Brown."

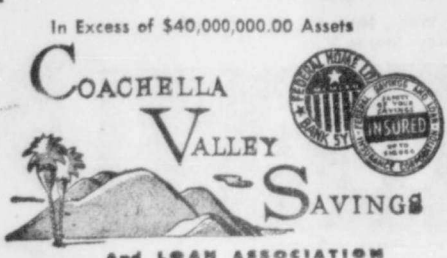

"It is rather embarrassing at times to be asked by persons what I do for a living. I tell them I am a writer. They never heard of Alan Yates, the writer, so they think I am a flop. Then I have to explain I am Carter Brown."
As matters now stand, Carter Brown books appear in 21 languages and on every continent. Yates, an inventive man with fiction, hopes to be equally successful with fact. Right now he is busy plotting a story by a brand new author by the name of none other than Alan Yates.

Half of Prison Arrivals Made It On Bottle

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—About half of the arrivals at San Quentin Prison are there, at least in part, because of the bottle.

This statement came Friday from Dr. David G. Schmidt, San Quentin psychiatrist, in a speech before the Commonwealth Club of California.

"Alcohol in crime is a major factor," said Schmidt. "and... a major or minor factor in approximately 50 per cent of our new arrivals in prison."
Schmidt said that alcoholism is "not only a national problem but one of our greatest international problems."

"To a degree, he went along with speakers at a recent University of California symposium who emphasized the soothing effects of alcohol."

"Primarily, the use of alcohol has a pleasant effect," he said. "It lifts the mood, it depresses the worry, and at the end of the day I have found little as pleasant... as a short one or two."

"But the addiction that occurs," he went on, "is worse than opiate addiction because it tends to make problems less acute and allows a subject to back in a superficial indulgence, to follow the lines of least resistance, and a heavenly nirvana pervades."

Hot Dog Show
Opens for Breakfast
At the request of many Villagers this little French Restaurant at 134 North Palm Canyon Drive known for their Heavenly Hot Dogs, Barbequed Hamburgers and French Roast Beef Sandwiches, now opens its doors at 8 a.m. serving Fresh Ranch Eggs, Omelettes and Hot Cakes. All served at unheard of low prices. A 1/2 pound Charcoal Broiled T-Bone Steak has been added to their menu for only $1.85, including Boston Baked Beans, Wisconsin Sauerkraut and Garlic Toast. It's no wonder that the Hot Dog Show has in a few months become one of Palm Springs' most popular spots. Remember this magic No. 134 North Palm Canyon Drive, a few doors so, at Bank of America.

One-Act Opera Slated At Palm Springs High

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," an opera in one act, will be the Christmas program presented by the Palm Springs High School music department on Tuesday evening, Dec. 19.

With the vocal score under the direction of Alex Hammond, the instrumental under the baton of Gustave Patzner, and piano accompaniment by Mrs. Lois Lux, the noted work of Gian-Carlo Menotti promises to be one of the schools' entertainment highlights of the Christmas season.

Two of the leading roles in the opera were selected this week, Hammond announced. The role of the mother will be portrayed by Kathy Shepard, 16-year-old Palm Springs High School junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Shepard, 71-581 Mirage Road, Rancho Mirage.

The role of the son will be played by Judy Jorgensen, 16-year-old senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jorgensen, 68-735 G Street, Cathedral City. The roles of the three kings who visit the home of the impoverished widow and the young crippled shepherd will be chosen this week, Hammond reported.

The celebrated Christmas opera has been a yearly offering of NBC Television for several years, and is an inspiring musical score with its characterizations of the Three Wise Men and their stop-over with Amahl and his mother, and the miracle that transforms the little shepherd, Hammond said.

The public is invited to attend the program in the Palm Springs High School auditorium.

Flynn Friend Petitions to Be an Adult

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A Superior Court judge was expected to rule Dec. 8 on a petition by Beverly Aadland, teen-aged companion of the late Errol Flynn, to declare her a legal adult.

Miss Aadland, 19, filed the petition Friday with Judge Clyde C. Triplett in order to gain control of an estimated $10,000 in cash and property.

The petition claimed she now is an adult because of her June 24 marriage to architect Maurice De Leon, 24.

Brief Cablegram Tells Marriage

WASHINGTON (UPI)—"Church wedding at three."

This brief cablegram was the way a young American Peace Corps volunteer in Africa sent word to his mother that he was getting married.

What made the marriage unusual was that both the bride and the groom are Peace Corps volunteers teaching in Ghana. It was the first such marriage in the young agency's history.

Roger Hamilton, a 21-year-old Arlington, Va., Harvard college graduate, first met his bride about five months ago when he joined a group being trained for duty at the University of California in Berkeley.

The bride, 24-year-old Carol Armstrong, was also in the group undergoing training in Ghana's economy, history and government. She is from Bala-Cynwyd, Pa.

Roger's mother, Mrs. Edwin C. Hamilton, told a reporter the cablegram from her son last week was not completely unexpected. She said that when the young couple passed through Washington on Aug. 29 they were obviously good friends.

Mrs. Hamilton said the young couple had indicated in letters that they probably would not be able to see much of each other until Christmas.

BROWN LEADS BROWNS; CHARGERS WIN AGAIN

By United Press International
This was Jimmy Brown's finest hour, and oh, what he'd give to perform an encore against the New York Giants next Sunday.

Brown set a National Football League record Sunday when he gained a total of 242 yards in 34 rushes and scored four touchdowns as the Cleveland Browns walloped the Philadelphia Eagles, 45-20.

Next weekend, pro football's best rusher collides head-on with pro football's toughest defense, furnished by the Giants, and something has to give in this battle for the Eastern Division.

The Giants, riding the golden arm of Y. A. Tittle, drubbed the Pittsburgh Steelers, 42-21, and gained undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern Division with an 8-2 record. Cleveland and Philadelphia are tied for runner-up with 7-3 each.

Packers Trounce Rams

The Green Bay Packers learned they can win without all-pro Paul Hornung. They beat the Los Angeles Rams, 35-17, to remain atop the Western Division with an 8-2 slate. The Detroit Lions clung to second place by defeating the Minnesota Vikings, 37-10.

In other games, the San Francisco Forty-Niners eliminated the Chicago Bears from contention with a 41-31 setback; the Washington Redskins ended a string of 17 consecutive defeats by playing a 28-25 tie with the Dallas Cowboys, and the Baltimore Colts blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 16-0.

The San Diego Chargers, who have clinched the Western Division crown in the American Football League, scored their 11th straight win by beating the Dallas Texans, 24-14; the Houston Oilers remained on top in the Eastern Division with a 49-13 romp against the New York Titans, and the Buffalo Bills beat the Denver Broncos, 23-10.

Breaks Own Record

Brown's record yardage haul broke his own single-game mark of 237 set as a rookie in 1957. The 230-pound Cleveland fullback now has gained a total of 1,095 yards in 225 carries this year for a 4.9 average. He rates a fair chance of breaking his own NFL season records of 1,527 yards and 290 carries in his quest of an unprecedented fifth straight league rushing championship.

Besides his record rushing haul, Brown caught three passes for 52 yards and ran back a kickoff 24 yards before a crowd of 68,399 at Cleveland. He also tried his hand at passing for the second time this season but overshot Ray Renfro. Bobby Mitchell raced 91 yards with a kickoff and caught a 28-yard pass from Milt Plum for another touchdown against the demoralized Eagles.

At New York, a crowd of 62,592 watched Tittle throw three touchdown passes and set up two more scores with his aerials against the Steelers. Kyle Rote caught a pair of touchdown tosses and Alex Webster scored once on a pass from Tittle and again on a 32-yard run from scrimmage.

'Misfit' Quarterback

Remember when pro football people called George Blanda a "misfit" quarterback?

Those were the years when he warmed the bench for the Chicago Bears and drew his paycheck for placekicking. He was pretty good at that, too, kicking a string of 156 extra points without a miss between 1951 and 1956. The Bears rarely let him try a pass, though.

No one dares call him a "misfit" these days, however, as he leads the Houston Oilers toward an American Football League championship playoff berth opposite the San Diego Chargers.

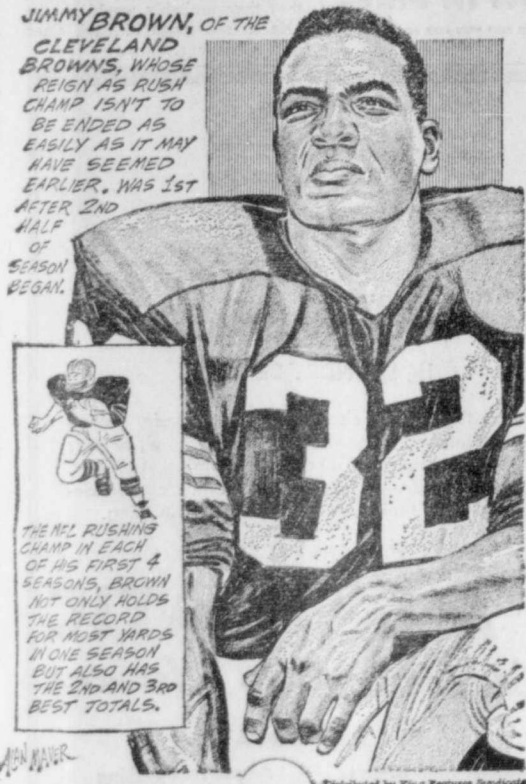

Blanda, now in his 12th season of professional football, set an AFL record Sunday when he threw seven touchdown passes as the Oilers whipped the New York Titans, 49-13. The victory pulled the Oilers away to a one-game lead over the Boston Patriots, who had won Friday night.

PS, Indio Teams Tied in Golf Meet

Palm Springs and Indio golfers paced the field over the weekend in the best ball foursome Public Links tournament as 170 golfers from over the Southland participated. The tourney was held over the Palm Springs Municipal and Indio Cochran Ranch courses.

Familiar fairways probably helped the teams both come in with best ball net 113's to share the lead. Palm Springs team members included Glenn Riley, Mel Wasserman, Joe Myers and Tom Pollock while the Indio team was made up of John Slater, E. Suski, M. Northern and O. Willard.

Bantam bowlers at PS Bowl showed great improvement Saturday in the weekly Santa Fe Federal League. Gene Marinko bowled 56 pins over his average, Mike Hunt 42 pins over, Tom Midstokke, 36, and Alan Ames, 30, over averages.

In the Junior Boys League, high score was rolled by John Trykman at 184, with David DiGrandi high series at 449.

Saturday's return match between the Indio and PS All-Stars ended up the same way the first game did at Indio. The local team took the invaders by a close 2692-2668. High man for the PS team was DiGrandi with 234 game and 583 series.

In Bantam's action at PS Lanes, the evening was full of twisting body English and cheers and jeers. Tom Beckley had high series at 227, and Janet Harris had 113 high for the girls.

Eddie Lario had a 499 series in the Junior Leaguers. Other 400 series were turned in by Steve Morris, Chauncy Poston, John Bunker, Gary Holtz, Alan McFarland, Barry Davidson, Don Perry, Brian Irish and Chuck Gardner.

Turkeys were won in headpin tourneys by Miss Weaton, Lee Bowen, Frank Citro and Don McKay of Yuca Valley Sunday night.

Alan Fox Wins Sixth Farrell Tennis Meet

Alan Fox, the chunky national collegiate champion from UCLA, won the 6th annual Charles Farrell Invitational Tennis Tournament Sunday, defeating Charles Pasarell, 6-3, 10-8, in the finals.

Polo Season Opens Sunday

The first polo match of Palm Springs' winter season will take place next Sunday afternoon when host Eldorado meets La Jolla at the Eldorado polo grounds. Club president Will Tevis announced today.

Starting with Sunday's six chuckers, a match of handicap polo will take place every week at the polo grounds behind the Eldorado Country Club. The fast action gets underway at 2 p.m.

Highlight of the season will be the arrival in February of a British team, headed by Lord Patrick Beresford, for a series of three matches with various Eldorado club teams. The English team, like last year's visiting French four, will ride Eldorado horses.

While Tevis expects a large turnout of players for the coming season, he named a tentative lineup for Sunday's match of himself, Dick Neville, Pete Hitchcock, and Bob Smith. Expected to ride for La Jolla are Willis Allen, Ed Hall, Gale Medlicott and Jack Conant.

Tevis also pointed out that these Sunday matches will be used as tryouts by the various members of Eldorado before the final teams are picked for the series against the visiting British team.

Angels' Film Is Offered

LOS ANGELES — The first film about the Angels — "The Los Angeles Angels Story" — is now available for bookings by service clubs, youth groups and other interested organizations seeking a baseball program.

The 22-minute film — a 16 mm sound production in black and white — can be booked by contacting the Angels. Groups must have their own 16 mm sound projector and screen.

"The Los Angeles Angels Story" relates the story of the Angels from the time of their founding on Dec. 6, 1960 until the present time. The club will play at Chavez Ravine, the new home of the Angels, in 1962.

Don Wells narrates the film.

SPORTS SUMMARY

By United Press International
Alabama and Rutgers stand alone today as major college football's only unbeaten and untied teams, which now total 18 over-all.

Four teams, including top-ranked Texas, dropped from the perfect list during the weekend. The others were Central (Okla.) State, Amherst and Allegheny.

Of the 18 survivors, all but Alabama, Rutgers, Florida A&M and Washington & Lee have completed their regular seasons. Florida A&M continues as the most devastating offensive and defensive club, having scored 414 points and allowed only 18.

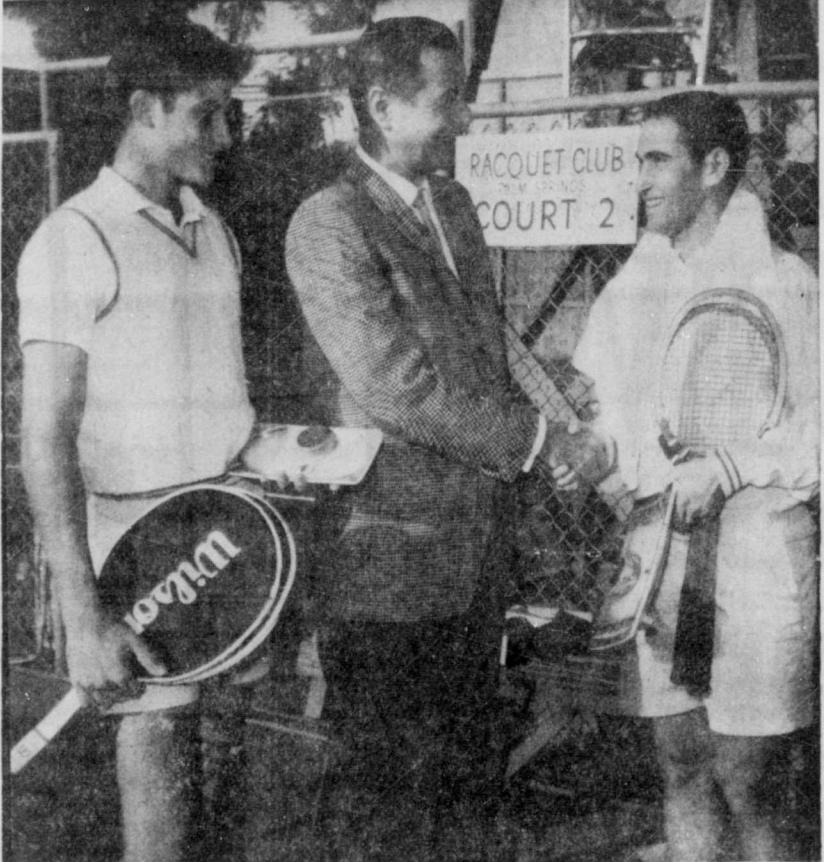

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Redskins have made their first direct overtures to Negro star Ernie Davis of Syracuse, it was revealed today.

Washington is the only team in the National Football League that has never hired a Negro player but owner George Preston Marshall recently tagged Davis as the club's number one draft choice for 1962. Indications are that the Redskins were about to break their 25-year-old color line.

MANILA (UPI) — Gary Player has Arnold Palmer's number — in Manila, anyway.

The 25-year-old player beat Palmer for the third time in a row Sunday with a two under par 70 that concluded the Manila portion of their around-the-world golf series. Palmer, encountering trouble with his putter, had a three over par 75.

Player now leads Palmer, 10-6, with one tie in their 25-match series which will be resumed early next year.

Banquet for Players Set For Dec. 6

Final preparations will be made tonight at the weekly Boosters Club meeting for the annual football banquet scheduled for Dec. 6.

Club members are currently selling tickets to the event, which will be held at the Elks Lodge. Speaker for the program will be Coach Jim Pecarovich of San Diego University.

The club annually treats the varsity and junior varsity football teams to the banquet, and offers townspeople the opportunity to attend as well.

SMGC Members In Two Tourneys

Shadow Mountain Golf Club women mixed it up with an ABC tournament on ladies day and the team of Julie Harris, Thelma Thompson and Louise Smith came in with the winning 72. Peggy Emerson, Velma Blades and Vera Gordon were second with a best ball 75.

The men's group of SMGC had a record turn-out for their point competition match. Herb Shaw walked away with the tourney, carding 40 points. Ralph Hale, Bill Smith, R. Fithian, D. C. Minto and S. J. Teaze ran up 37 points and H. A. Wardell, J. B. Whisenant and Larry White carded 36 points.

The club hosted wives of the Seniors tournament players last week, and approximately 40 ladies toured the course after coffee and rolls were served by the hospitality committee.

from ... CHAMPAGNE to ... SHAMPOO

... by Sue

Holidays are approaching and it will soon be time for people and pocketbooks to give. Some of the work and most of the guess has been taken out of run-of-the-mill gift giving (in Dallas, at least).

Neiman-Marcus has installed an IBM machine that can be fed with information about the gift recipient. Seconds later an appropriate list of 10 gifts arrives via punch-card. Then (of course) the machine operator directs purchasers to the proper department to purchase their choice sure-to-please gifts.

If your source of money is as infallible as IBM, here are a couple of items that may interest you.

For the woman who has everything and wants something almost no one else has, Lenthier has created a new fragrance, "Air de France."

Only 750 ounces will be available in the entire country (some of it at Robinson's P.S.), and each bottle will bear the distinction of individual numbering on a hand-inscribed enclosure card.

Rare "Air de France" is this human's idea of a gift for women who wish to be exclusively scented this season.

For the man who's got everything (including ulcers) Chuck Walters has a leather case which holds five pill dispensers and is fashioned after a letter, postmarked Milltown, U.S.A. and addressed to its owner.

Here's the answer for the mother who seems to need everything and has nothing but babies... a new stainless steel clip that was recently marketed and may consign the diaper pin to the museum of ancient history.

The clip, which fastens quickly and securely, should attract every mother in the country who has been aggravated at the ease in which the old fashioned pin seems to find its way into a maternal finger. (Your columnist is already a satisfied customer).

Halve your work by doubling up on your duties, says Bernardine Helwig. Instead of washing your floors and then waxing it, pour some liquid wax into your wash water. The single effort will give you a clean and shiny double effect.

Most women love the new look paint gives their home, but hate the odor that remains for days after painting's done.

Raye Jostin notes the odor will simply vanish if you place a saucer of vinegar in the facelifted room.

What could be more frustrating than missing a phone call because you didn't hear it until the third ring (at which time the caller gave up and hung up)? This seems to happen about every third time you're at the clothesline, in the garden, or just plain too far away to hear the phone.

Edy Walz has the answer to this "missing" problem. When you plan to be far from the phone for any length of time, set your phone in a metal pan and its sound will be many times amplified.

Almost as frustrating is the cork that has been pushed down into a bottle. To remove the cork, try Anne Baker's suggestion. Tie a string around a smaller cork and drop it down into the bottle. Guide the dropped cork so that it will float to the top of the bottle. Now pull the string. The old cork and the guiding cork will both come out (Anne hopes).

From a once desperate Sue to you: Having trouble canceling your subscription to the Book of the Month, Record of the Month, or Miscellaneous of the Month Club. So did I. I don't know how many of those IBM cards went back to their originator with the message, "Cancel my subscription." The cards went back, but the merchandise kept arriving... with a bill.

Finally, I realized that tricky as they are, machines just can't read my message wasn't getting across. Next time that card with the little holes arrived, I added a couple of holes of my own. I don't know what shape the machine's in, but things-of-the-month have stopped arriving.

Cornish Game Hen Is Good Entree for Family Dinner

We're not ones to overlook the goodness of turkey, and that somehow Thanksgiving just isn't Thanksgiving without turkey. But for a small family holiday dinner, roasted Cornish game hens make a most satisfying entree.

These small hens are such elegant individual servings. Tender and juicy they're at their mouth-watering best when basted with a sweet-sour and piquant buttery glaze. Butter prevents the meaty juices from drying out, while it enhances the flavor of the hens.

Let's you think we have overlooked other traditional ingredients like yams, cranberries and mincemeat, we assure you that they too receive top billing. Evaporated milk, an ingredient homemakers know they can depend upon, is blended with orange - fleshed yams, butter and flour into a fluffy vegetable puff. This puff is double nutritious as evaporated milk is whole milk with about half the water content removed.

Herbed Bean Medley, our second vegetable, are beans such as you've never tasted before. It's not only tasty but colorful to combine the dark green beans with the yellow wax beans, baking them in a buttery casserole well seasoned with marjoram.

When dinner is for two couples, serve a simple sippable appetizer. Guests may linger over chilled tomato juice or fruit shrub and cheesy crackers, as you slip out to bring in that high and handsome Yam Puff, immediately followed by the hens and Bean Medley.

Since the hens, the puff and the beans bake at the same temperature, start the hens first. Twenty minutes later, baste the hens with the butter sauce, tucking the Herbed Bean Medley into the oven, for the last hour of baking. Baked in a colorful casserole the beans can come to the table "as is." Twenty minutes later, your puff should go in; give the hens a last good basting at the same time.

old-fashioned Sour Cream Mincemeat Pie will do. Try this menu and find out that it can be Thanksgiving without turkey.

AUTUMN LEAF cut-outs grace the crust of this pleasantly tart Cranberry-Mince Pie, that combines two all-time holiday favorites. The ingredients are flavored with sugar and orange rind.

Cranberries and Mincemeat Good Holiday Combination

For a delicious winter-time pie, take two of the season's favorites - cranberries and mincemeat - and bake them together in flaky, melt-in-your-mouth pastry.

The Cranberry - Mince Filling couldn't be easier. It's a combination of canned whole cranberry sauce and prepared mincemeat, flavored with melted butter or margarine, brown sugar and grated orange rind.

This mouth-watering filling deserves a perfect crust. For a flaky, tender crust, follow these suggestions. Cut or rub in the shortening until the mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Use ice cold water, and add only a little at a time so the water will be evenly distributed through the flour mixture. Chill the pastry before rolling out. It will handle more easily and consequently be more tender.

To give your pie an extra fancy look, try one of these "upper-crust" tricks. For a shiny top crust, brush with milk before baking. For a top crust with a sparkling glaze, brush with beaten egg or a mixture of egg yolk and water. You can achieve a sugary crust by moistening the unbaked crust with a little water on your fingertips and then sprinkling evenly with granulated sugar.

Frills or Turkey Are Useful

Paper frills on the ends of turkey drumstick bones are useful as well as decorative. They give the carver a better grip when he removes the legs and slices meat from the drumsticks. They should be placed on the drumsticks just before the turkey goes to the table.

To make frills, fold a 4-by-32-inch piece of white paper in half lengthwise. With scissors, cut strips about 1/4 inch wide and 1 inch long along folded edge. Open and reverse fold so that strips stand out like flower petals. Roll to size to slip over drumstick ends. Staple together or fasten with cellophane tape. Slip over drumstick ends.

What's New

United Press International

A combination electric meat grinder and salad maker has nylon parts in the places where the parts come in contact with food. The exception: cutting blades which must be made of tempered steel. No matter how often you immerse the nylon parts in suds and water, there will be no rust. (Varco, Inc., Jersey City, N.J.).

This Year Turkey Will Be Popular for Twelve Months

NEW YORK (UPI)—Now we're going to have the bird-turkey—on the table the year round in a wide variety of products.

New turkey items, now in test kitchens or test markets, include turkeyburgers, turkey hot dogs, turkey sausage, mock turkey drumsticks of ground turkey meat, and frozen turkey sandwiches.

Frozen turkey dressing rolls, boned and stuffed, already are available in the institutional field. Turkey quarters and halves are being added to the tray pack selection of drumsticks, thighs, full legs and breasts in many markets.

Turkey Fest
The outlook for new products was given to food writers and editors by the Poultry and Egg National Board at a turkey news fest here.

A holiday bird years ago was a tough customer. "Grandma needed imagination when she shopped," said Prof. John Berpa, a poultry specialist with the New Jersey Extension Service at Rutgers University.

It was hard to judge a bird's size in the market, he said, because it was displayed in full plumage, with head, feet and feathers still attached.

Even those birds were an improvement over wild turkeys served at early Thanksgiving celebrations and by many Indian tribes.

Year-Round Food
Despite toughness, wild turkeys were a year-round food, clothing and weapon source for Indians long before the Pilgrims landed.

Domestic turkeys today are the only poultry descended from wild stocks native to this country. But, like the Pilgrims, they came from Europe. The present breed was developed from wild birds taken to Europe by early explorers, then reintroduced here by early settlers.

Opinions differ on the man who actually gave Europe the bird. Some historians say Columbus took Central American wild turkeys to Spain as proof he'd landed on foreign soil. Others say that Capt. Hernando Cortez, Spanish conquistador of Mexico, was the first white man to eat turkey.

Goes to Court

NEW YORK (UPI)—A New York City policewoman has gone to court to force the civil service commission to let her take the sergeant's test.

Policewoman Felicia Schpritzer went to court recently to revise a commission ruling which prevented her from taking the test "because of the wide dissimilarity between the physical makeup of patrolmen and patrolwomen."

She called the commission's stand "arbitrary, capricious, chaotic and illegal."

Watch Mink Coats Created to Appreciate Price Tag

NEW YORK (UPI)—A mink coat may be wishful thinking for you at the moment. But when you see one in production, you'll appreciate more than its price tag when you do purchase one.

The "anatomy" of a mink coat is more than skins created into a status symbol; it also is a result of many man hours by craftsmen.

Thirty years in the industry, for instance, are behind Leo Ritter, boss of and chief designer for Ritter Brothers. It was at this firm that I went behind the scenes for a look at the production of millions of dollars of luxury per year.

Let us begin with that mink coat and what goes into its making.

First, of course, comes the fur—skins sold at auction from mid-December through the end of January. At auction, they go to the highest bidder, just as a piece of furniture or a painting would go to the highest bidder. The furrier has had a chance before the auction to inspect the skins at close hand.

Skins are bought either raw or dressed; raw means that they come directly from the animal; dressed, that the pelts have been cured. After purchase, the furrier grades the pelts as to quality and color, matching them in terms of their ultimate destination—coat, stole, jacket.

Say that you're the customer about to order a custom-made mink coat. First you would work with Ritter or another furrier in selecting the style. Then you would get a head-to-hem coat made up in muslin. Any changes in fitting would be in the muslin stage. From the muslin a pattern is made, using brown paper about the weight of that used for parcel post wrappings.

You would decide with your furrier the type of mink you wanted—it probably would be one of the ranch-bred mutations. Ritter said that wild Labrador is the most precious of all minks, but there are only 1,600 to 1,800 Labradors trapped a year, the mink is smaller than the ranch-bred, and 130 to 160 skins are needed for a coat. Fifty-five to 70 average minks go into a coat.

Ritter said there are only five or six Labradors made a year, and it wasn't too long ago that a San Francisco store advertised one for $35,000.

You can buy a mink coat for much less. Ritter said some are available for around $1,650, but say $2,950."

"The woman who knows what she is buying will pay a little more, say $2,950."

The ranch-bred mink is the most plentiful fur, and the Mutation Mink Breeders Association has registered 12 trademarks as basic mutations.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By LICHTY

"Living is getting more and more complicated, Adele! Now, in addition to the calorie count, we've got the radiation count to consider!"

"SO FAR I CAUGHT A GREEN SOCK AND TWO HANDKERCHIEFS!"

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite the "price wars" in the industry, chemicals' prospects are still good for 1962, according to the Value Line Investment Survey. Higher production rates will more than offset price erosion and a sales gain of 10 per cent will generate a year-to-year profit gain of more than 15 per cent for the industry in 1962, the survey estimates.

Chartcraft, Inc., a leading technical advisory service, says that 57 stocks reversed their trend in the past week—31 from bearish to bullish and only six from bullish to bearish.

Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co. says technical indicators would suggest that perhaps following several days of selective retreat the market will again be placed in position for a broad resumption of strength. For the moment, however, Granville expects buying to be somewhat restricted and profit-taking to take place in many of the stocks which have made strong price climbs.

SHOES MANDATORY
HONOLULU (UPI) — The Oahu Interscholastic Association has voted to make shoes mandatory equipment for junior varsity football teams. Opponents of 'Waialua High School, which played all its games barefoot and won the championship this year, complained they were handicapped by having to play the Bulldogs without shoes.

LA QUINTA

La Quinta Hotel Set For Season Opening

The LaQuinta Hotel under the management of E. L. Schoenbrun has undergone several changes during the summer months preparatory to the winter season. The Spanish-type patio has been enclosed to increase dining area. Guest cottages have been renovated. The baths were modernized. New food service equipment has been added to the kitchen, for the convenience of Leon Duray, noted Swiss Chef, who will again feature the lobster dish he originated, called Homard Celine.

Host to the diners will be John Reid the new maître d' who was formerly at the Randa Hill, at Monrovia Bay, Jamaica. Mrs. Kay Ruggles will begin her second season as social director of the hotel.

E. L. Schoenbrun, while presiding over the many changes, must accustom himself to a change of pace in living. Formerly of the Drake Hotel, in Chicago, where efficiency moved at a faster tempo, the quiet, calm, relaxed atmosphere of desert living should be most beneficial.

Besides the many planned special events the hotel features horseback riding, sun bathing, swimming, and tennis, directed by Bruno Purvanes, the hotel pro. Also featured for the first time this year will be lawn bowling, with three new bowling greens having been planned for use this season. The hotel will reopen Nov. 21.

The LaQuinta Desert Club, under the management of Bob Ray, has begun its season. Among the guests last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Harris of Glendale, Col. and Mrs. B. W. Wright of Laguna Beach, Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson of Hollywood, Col. and Mrs. Guy B. Richardson Jr. of San Bernardino, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bryant of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Keefe of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. H. Alford.

Alfred Williams, along with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gold, recently visited friends at Anza, Calif. Mrs. Marzeline Carnes visited her mother at Oceanside.

Segregation Held Greater In North Than the South

NEW YORK (UPI) — More Negro children attend segregated schools today in northern cities than in all the cities of the south. And they are being denied equal education opportunity just as surely in Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Detroit and New York as in any segregated southern school system, according to a pamphlet issued by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc.

Most northern cities have ignored the problem, the pamphlet said, on the theory that since segregation was not established by law they are not legally responsible for ending it.

Cite Study

They cite a study made in New York, which has taken steps to mix school populations, as evidence that schools in Negro neighborhoods are "older, more crowded" than in white neighborhoods and that "the quality of teaching ... has also suffered."

The authors, Will Maslow and Richard Cohen, executives of the American Jewish Congress, were most sharply critical of Chicago where they said school authorities have refused to do anything about "crude discrimination and flagrant inequality" in overcrowded and inadequately staffed Negro schools.

They were critical of both New York and Chicago for permitting senior teachers to choose schools, a practice which has resulted in a preponderance of inexperienced teachers in the more difficult Negro neighborhoods.

But they said New York's recently instituted open enrollment program was "the most useful method yet devised to begin an effective desegregation program."

It permits students in predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican schools to transfer on request to other schools where space is available.

Refuse Transfers

Chicago school authorities, the authors said, have refused to permit any transfers although 81 per cent of its largely Negro schools are on double sessions, with an average of 1,275 students per school. White schools in Chicago have an average of 669 pupils each with only two per cent on double sessions. Racially mixed schools have an average pupil population of 917, with 19 per cent on double session, the pamphlet said.

Much of the northern problem is rooted in the fact of housing segregation and the idea of the neighborhood school which "has become as deeply embedded in American tradition as turkey on Thanksgiving."

The authors also commended the plan followed in Princeton, N.J., and a number of other small communities to desegregate neighborhood schools. Where schools in white and Negro neighborhoods are comparatively near each other, three elementary grades have been placed in one school and three in another, desegregating both schools.

County's Boundry Hits Enforcement

BLTYHE (UPI)—The problem of uncertain jurisdiction in law enforcement is an everyday one for authorities caused by the lack of a clear-cut boundary between California and Arizona, a legislative committee was told. A six-man California assembly committee headed by Rep. Clayton A. Dills, D-Los Angeles, held the second day of a three-day long series of hearings in cities bordering the Colorado River—originally the natural boundary between the two states. Both states set up boundary commissions to seek a solution to the problem which has been growing over the years as the river changed channels, creating a "no man's land" island. "Riverside County law enforcement officers are not certain they are making an arrest along the Colorado River because of jurisdictional disputes," said Dist. Atty. William T. Mackay. "Often there is a question of whether the court has legal jurisdiction when an arrest has been made along the river." As an example he referred to a 1939 shooting case dismissed in Imperial County because of the jurisdiction problem. Settlement of the boundary issue would end uncertainty, thus boosting property values and assuring more tax money for California, said one witness. A proposed boundary down the middle of the river was beaten down last year by the California Legislature. This would have split an island in the channel between Yuma and near Winterhaven, Calif., which consists of 4,225 acres. Sen. Aaron Quick, D-Imperial, testified, "we strongly oppose dividing the so-called Yuma Island."

It's a Safe Bet Gromyko Didn't See the Grim Humor

The usually grim-faced Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko must have laughed all the way to Khrushchev's office after telling the Finns that his government had "not the slightest intention" of intervening in Finland's domestic affairs. For Soviet pressures have been a major contributor to the fact that since World War II Finland has had no less than 20 governments. Having had his little joke, Gromyko went on to tell Finnish Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen that if Finland could produce proof of continued neutrality, then it might not be necessary to hold military talks which could end with Russian forces on Finnish soil. Prompt Decision President Urho Kekkonen, who of necessity has learned to read the Russian handwriting accurately, promptly dissolved parliament and called for new elections in February. Specifically, the Russians professed to fear that Finland's minority government was not strong enough to insure its present policy of neutrality. But the government was no weaker than it has been all along since 1938, and elections had been scheduled for next summer anyway. Furthermore, since the war all Finnish governments have followed the "Passikivi line." This was the policy enunciated by former President Juhani Kusti Paasikivi which consists simply of cultivating the best possible relations with Russia and avoiding the slightest excuse for action dangerous to Finnish independence. Elections Nearing Of more immediate interest to the Russians probably were the approaching presidential elections. On Jan. 15 and 16, Finnish voters will elect a 300-member presidential election college. On Feb. 15, the college will elect a new president. The Russians have let it be known that they want Kekkonen returned to office. In Finland, the Soviets know they tread dangerous ground. Kekkonen has done his best to urge the cause of neutrality on NATO members Denmark and Norway and on Sweden. But the Finns proved to the Russians in 1939-40 that they could fight, and the surest way to force Sweden into NATO would be for Russian troops to move once more into Finland. LOOKING FOR BURGLARS LONDON (UPI)—Police today were looking for burglars who broke into the home of a London lawyer, stole $3,000 worth of goods, slashed the furniture and drew a Nazi swastika on one of the walls.

We Still Have a Long Way to Go

When the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct was built from the Colorado River to Lake Mathews near Riverside, several tunnels were necessary to pierce the mountains which blocked the path of the big flume. To speed operations, these tunnels were started not only from either end but, with the aid of side tunnels, from the middle, too.

These side tunnels leading to the site of the main bore, are called adits. There are several in the desert area. Four are north of Indio and there is one south of Cabazon leading into the longest MWD tunnel, the 13-mile San Jacinto bore. These adits are horizontal or almost so. There were other shafts which came in from the top to facilitate the tunnel project but they are vertical and do not figure in the current discussion.

The adits are still there. It would have been purposeless to fill them up. The entrances were blocked and the tunnels left empty.

Civil Defense heads in Indio believe these adits would make ideal fallout shelters with little additional work. The four north of Indio total 7,000 feet in length, well over a mile. Overhead are tons of rock and earth, more than adequate for protection, it is claimed.

Constructed in the middle 1930s when the long aqueduct was built, they have not been used since their purpose was accomplished. That much work would have to be done before conversion to shelters is an accepted fact and no real planning can be done until they are inspected as to their feasibility and safety.

Riverside County has acted and asked the MWD board as to its reaction to the proposal. The MWD was noncommittal and referred the request to the district manager. There are many things involved, liability, costs and safety of the aqueduct are some.

Conversion of these tunnels, totalling almost a mile and three-eighths, is not a solution to the problem of protection in the desert. It is estimated they would accommodate no more than half of the population in the area. And the question of who used them would precipitate a controversy. It could involve a battle if the public panicked with warning of an attack.

Accessibility provides another problem. An attack by an enemy armed with nuclear weapons most certainly would leave but little time for warning and to alert the public. With the father at his office or work, the children probably in school and the mother possibly at home, getting the family together is another phase of the Herculean task to provide protection.

Taking into consideration the exploding population growth in the desert area, the problem of protection against fallout seems insurmountable but while the use of the adits is woefully inadequate, it is a start.

The chief obstacle and one which applies to any plan for community shelters, is protocol—who has priority, who is first. If it's on a first come, first served basis, the resultant scramble could be as lethal as the threat from the skies.

Many shelter plans have been broached but up to the present, none meets the problem of mass protection.

Individual home shelters still seem the best solution with the only mass shelters being for apartment house and hotel dwellers.

It will take much more planning and thinking and ingenuity for a solution.

Now You Know, It's Next Thursday

Ever since Franklin Delano Roosevelt tinkered with the traditional day of Thanksgiving in an effort to prime the economic pump and provide an extra week for Christmas shopping, some people have remained confused about the day of the Big Feast.

To set them straight, Thanksgiving Day is next Thursday, Nov. 23. It has been so proclaimed by President Kennedy for the nation and by Governor Brown for the state.

Thanksgiving has been observed on many different days. The national observance stemming from the original Day of Thanks observed by the Pilgrim Fathers, has been associated through the years as a day of gratitude for bountiful harvests and to give thanks for other blessings. The first day of Thanksgiving was observed by Massachusetts colonists on Feb. 22, 1631, to give thanks for survival after a cruel winter.

In 1780 President Washington proclaimed the 26th of November of that year as the day to give thanks for the growth of the nation. The day was observed each year thereafter, but on no set date.

President Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday in November as the annual day to give thanks. That was in 1863 and up to the time President Roosevelt shoved it forward a week, it was always observed on that day.

To clarify the situation, state, district and territorial legislators got together to set the fourth Thursday of November each year as Thanksgiving Day. November this year has five Thursdays so the holiday is not the last Thursday of the month.

With this information everyone should be happy except the turkey and what he doesn't know, won't hurt him—or her.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Watch K's Power Play in Finland

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Policy planners at the Pentagon are intently watching Khrushchev's power play upon Finland—watching and waiting, and trying to mind-read the tactician of the Kremlin.

The planners are chagrined that Khrushchev's demands upon Finnish President Urho Kekkonen got as much publicity in America and West Europe as it did. They feel that the Soviet pressure upon Finland to activate the Russo-Finnish joint defense treaty against Germany and German allies (meaning NATO) is a shrewd attempt to agitate the "Beware of Germany" theme in a forum that is less risky than Central Europe.

If Khrushchev's implied threat to Finland of "Join Up—Or Else" had not received so much notice, had not caused emergency Cabinet meetings throughout Scandinavia, and not brought Khrushchev back into the world news, Khrushchev's first purpose would have been thwarted.

Big K's primary purpose, therefore, it is believed at the Pentagon and State Department, is psychological. He would like, by raising a crisis and then finding an accommodation with President Kekkonen, to get the latter re-elected on a platform of, "He kept us out of war with Russia." This would put Finland in a mood to agree that Germany and NATO constitute an imminent threat to both Russia and Finland. From this point of agreement, the next easy step would be for Finland to permit Russian Early Warning radar stations to be set up.

Might Join Pact

In order to guard these installations, Finland might next decide it would be wise to accept modern weapons—for instance, ICBM rockets—from Russia. Then, it would be perfectly natural for Finland to abandon its armed neutrality to the point of becoming an associate member of the Warsaw Pact, a backer of Russia's position on Berlin, hence a mild opponent of the American position on that city.

If this step-by-step realignment of Finnish policy took place, anybody could rationally argue that Finland (a) was or (b) was not inside the Soviet bloc. But no matter how the argument went, the advantage would go to Russia. The advantage would be in the "message" to neutral Sweden and to NATO members, Norway and Denmark. These Scandinavian nations would perceive that Russia had convinced their tough little neighbors that Germany and NATO, rather than Russia and her satellites, comprised the real threat to European peace.

But these psychological gains are vague and bloodless. There are prominent peace-mongers of great influence in Washington who consider it a moral victory whenever we avoid going to war—even if we lose in peace what we might have preserved by fighting.

There is a strong disposition among Government thinkers who serve as opinion-makers for the public and the press to insist that Russia has no military aims in Finland, just these bloodless psychological aims. The idea, appealing recently in this column, that Khrushchev might be moving to de-Stalinize the Russian policy toward an independent Finland, and to absorb Finland at Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia were absorbed, is not a welcome one in Government circles. The arguments against this possibility are that a Russian move into Finland would cause a NATO countermove and would steel the hearts of the Norwegians and the Danes rather than cow their hearts.

No Commitments

But it is a fact that the USA has no commitment to go to the aid of Finland. It is also a fact that Russia does have a definite, known military purpose in that area. It is to exclude the Western Allies from the Baltic Sea. Once firmly in control of Finnish policy, Russia would be well positioned to offer a treaty which would allow only countries touching on the Baltic to maintain military forces there. These countries are Russia, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Poland, East Germany, Sweden and Finland.

But even accepting the most extreme hypothesis—that Russia intends to absorb Finland—the central contest remains over Berlin. If Red Imperialism takes this city, it will automatically push its borders westward. The danger, not unrecognized but very unwelcome in the Administration think shops, is that temperarily balked at Berlin, Khrushchev will move West by a flanking movement to the North.

QUOTE

NEW YORK — James J. Rorimer, director of the Metropolitan Museum of New York, on spending $2.3 million for a Rembrandt painting:

"We think that adding this great Rembrandt to the museum's collection of 28 Rembrandts outweighs the sacrifice we will have to make."

After the customary statistics everybody fine — he said the boy sat up and said:

"Hey, dad, when we going to California to see grandma and grandpa and go to Disneyland?" I never went that far.

ALREADY HAVING a household of boys they were sort of looking for a girl. Had a name picked out for her. But no one was disappointed, neither the doctor, the daughter-in-law nor the four previous grandsons. The latest addition now bears the name "George."

When they named me I was there but too young to defend myself. So they hung "Rupert" on me but I never was called that except by mother and the fond aunts. It was generally Rube, Rupe or Ruby. Hence the brag.

SO WHEN IT became my turn to name boys or, at least, to be consulted, I plumped for easy names and it was John and Robert, soon changed to Jack and Bob.

The doctor who drew "John" followed suit. They now have a John, William, Alan, Robert and George. Not a Rupert in the gang except when I'm there. The kids won't have to engage in fistfights because of a name.

I ONCE HAD a learned friend, a Judge Holbrook who hated nicknames. He had four boys and gave all of them three-letter names to balk the nicknames — Jay, Guy, Roy and Leo.

And when they went to school, every last one of them was called "Holy."

All right, now it's our turn to brag.

Again I brag
(Though second-handed)
Just got the word
The clan's expanded.

One of the pleasures of doing this sort of thing, punching out words to fill this space, is that no one can interrupt you.

OF COURSE, consensus has it that there is no greater bore than a new father. Unless, perhaps, a new grandfather.

So, although once removed, I can still brag as an accessory before the fact, as the legal lights say.

The singing wires informed me on the day this was being threaded through the typewriter, that I have a new grandson. Let me quickly say, me and Mrs. G. She's bragging, too.

IN THIS CASE, it's "like father, like son," or a "chip off the old block" and you can say block head if you want to. I won't care.

When the doctor who sent me the word of the arrival of this grandson, first made his appearance, I had him talking and walking the first week. I did hold off buying him an electric train until he was five (months).

TIMES DO NOT CHANGE it seems. On the day the new boy came into this world, the doctor rushed to the telephone to span half the nation with the glad word.

After the customary statistics everybody fine — he said the boy sat up and said:

"Hey, dad, when we going to California to see grandma and grandpa and go to Disneyland?" I never went that far.

ALREADY HAVING a household of boys they were sort of looking for a girl. Had a name picked out for her. But no one was disappointed, neither the doctor, the daughter-in-law nor the four previous grandsons. The latest addition now bears the name "George."

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I am a college junior and my roommate is a guy from Texas. He keeps a shoe box filled with plain, ordinary dirt under his bed. Nobody is allowed to move it because it is "Texas" dirt. Do you think this guy is all there? —NOT FROM TEXAS

DEAR NOT: Of course he is. It doesn't matter if he's got dirt "under" him or "over" him, once a Texan-always a Texan.

DEAR ABBY: Every girl needs someone to talk to, but I am afraid I've been talking to the wrong person. She is my aunt. She is almost 50, and has never been married. She claims all men are no good, and has drummed that idea into my head ever since I can remember. I idolize my aunt, and have grown up believing everything she has told me. I am 25 and not married, although I have been called "beautiful," and I am constantly being asked out.

My aunt made me promise I wouldn't date a man until she met him. I kept that promise. I realize now she has found fault with every man who showed an interest in me. I recently met a man I could love. I broke my promise, and have been seeing him. I am afraid to introduce him to my aunt because I know she'll tear him down like she did the others. Should I introduce him and clear my conscience, or not? —MIND OF MY OWN

DEAR MIND: Your aunt sounds like a player who never made the team, but is right in there intercepting passes. By all means, introduce him to your aunt. But tell her how you feel about him and ask her not to blow the whistle on this one until she has seen him in action.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's firm promoted him, and moved us to another city 400 miles from our former home. We have one child, Karl, who is 14. Karl was very unhappy over the move because he had to leave all his friends.

We live in a beautiful home in a fine neighborhood where there are many boys and girls Karl's age, but Karl shows no interest in making friends. He sits around the house and sulks, and looks down-hearted and miserable. He used to be such a happy boy. Did we make a mistake to move? If Karl is going to be miserable it will not have been worth it. Any suggestions? —KARL'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Pretend not to notice Karl's sulking, and he will stop trying to punish you (that's what he's doing, you know, for disrupting his social pattern. He will meet plenty of potential friends at school. If this is the biggest adjustment Karl will ever have to make in his lifetime, he'll be lucky.

DEAR ABBY: Someone who is soon to be in our family is badly in need of dental care and we don't know how to broach the subject. We are all very fastidious and this problem is fast changing our attitude toward this person. We fear it will be a hindrance in his finding employment in keeping with his abilities. Please advise us as to what is causing us a great deal of anguish. —ANGUISH

DEAR ANGUISH: The person who is responsible for bringing this man into your family should tackle the very delicate assignment and do it now. The man in need of dental care probably is aware of it—but has put it off, become used to the condition and is hoping no one else notices.

DEAR ABBY: You hear so many older people say how terrible the teenagers of today dress, make up their faces and do their hair. My mother told me herself that twenty years ago she used to put "rats" in her hair to make her pompadour stand up higher than anybody else's. Now, can you top that? —LINDA

DEAR LINDA: The "rats" your mother used to puff up her pompadour were made of synthetic hair. They were not real rats. But the goldfish the college boys of that era used to swallow—just to be cute—were very real indeed. And alive!

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BOB CONSIDINE:

Shelter Column Brings In Rash of Comments

Did a piece recently saying in effect, that too many of us are going off half-cocked and wholly craven by building bomb and fallout shelters and stocking them with chintz and other goodies against that day when crosstown traffic will be as unimpeded as it was in "On the Beach."

Well, sir, I'm not a fellow people write to, except an occasional note from the bank about being overdrawn. But that particular piece and its theme, "Are We Men Or Moles?" evoked an avalanche of nearly 20 (sorry, 17) letters. With Charlie Knickerbocker's 20,000,000 readers had dipped a bill into it.

Believe me, most of this flood of correspondents (80.3 per cent, as Dr. Gallup might put it after consorting with a jar of red and white beans) agree that it is disgraceful to see red-blooded, virile, courageous citizens of the greatest and most powerful and most free country in the world burrowing into ugly holes in their gardens and the catacombs in their cellars in fear of momentary attack launched by a phony bomb we could lick in a day.

What's Wrong At Home? At SHAPE in Versailles the other day an American combat officer with the scars and ribbons of three wars asked me, "What the hell's wrong with our people back there. I mean the ones who are going underground. What do they think we're over here for? We've devoted our lives to learning what to do about the fellow, if he starts something."

But enough of that. There were dissenting voices. Here's a vigorous one which best expresses the feelings of fellow dissenters. He is J. Gordon Camfield, a businessman who lives in Roseville, Mich. He has been kind enough to write as follows:

"I consider you an idiot after reading (in the Detroit News) 'Russians aren't going to make me crawl into a hole.'"

"You, Sokolsky and Ike (Ed. note: Ahem!) and a few other ordinarily intelligent people have just helped to prove my theory that when a man's vanity or pride is at stake—to hell with realistic appraisal and objective conclusions."

"Because you apparently feel yourself to be braver than the average you evidently feel compelled to lead all the rest, the implied cowards, to what may be mass slaughter. Bravo to you! In your confused thinking you fail to offer any alternative for the program which you so sarcastically deride, namely the fallout shelter program. (Ed. note: Wrong, sir. I suggested that we put as much into making ourselves utterly strong as we seem to be putting into saving our individual hides.)

Don't Mislead Others "If you wish to be a hero and stand atop your desk, cursing and shaking your fist at a nuclear attack, please don't lead millions (Ed. note: 17) of others with you via your column who might otherwise have protected themselves and remained alive to fight on for democracy's cause."

"... We have (1) an unprecedented potential calamity; (2) an unprecedented diabolical communistic program; (3) an unprecedented need for reappraisal of values and (4) an unprecedented mass helplessness, subject to the whims of too few statesmen, many politicians, and assorted and allegedly objective reporters."

We could print some of the "heart heart" letters, but there isn't room. Mr. Camfield's letter is reflected in many official and expresses a point of view which is reflected in any official and unofficial quarters. Here in New York, Gov. Rockefeller is a real bug on the subject and seems to be threatening us at bayonet point to run to the nearest sewer of our choice.

Me, I think I'll head for Roseville, Mich., if Khrushy blows his stack. What could be safer, the cost of the monuclear bombs being what they are.
